From the Director

Take a famous children's novel that is read in classrooms across America, add forty creative, spunky, fun-loving children, and a production crew that consist of about fifteen people, and you'll have yourself "Some Play." It's always a difficult task, but once again we've conquered it all through some fourteen plus hours of dedication each day, many months of prior preparation, and thespians who want nothing but to share their love of the arts with children. What a pleasure it has been to direct the theatre camp production for a third time, and what a pleasure it is to meet new little actors and actresses each year!

Thank you to Nancy and Karen for the hard work and dedication on costuming, Ronnie and Brian on adding the colorful illusion to set the scene of such a memorable tale, Tommy (Grandad) and Weston for helping construct such an amazing set, and to Donna for her daily assistance. To the counselors who sat side-by-side, willing to do whatever is necessary, I applaud you!

It took a village (plus some), but Camp 2015 has come to a successful close. I'm already counting down the days to Camp 2016!

Enjoy the show! Grab a tissue, it's a tearjerker.

- Kyler Danowski
