Directors Notes:

We are ecstatic about directing the first children's theatre camp at Purchase Players! Community theatre is a learning experience for everyone involved, so it is exciting that this camp gives us the opportunity to focus specifically on furthering the education of children interested in theatre. It is also wonderful to see the enthusiasm of these kids. Part of the beauty of theatre is that it is collaborative effort, a group of people working together to achieve the common goal of putting on a successful production. That is something the kids seem to understand instinctively. They have worked exceptionally hard in these two weeks to put on a great show, which is no small feat in such a short amount of time. We are so very proud of these kids and their dedication and cooperative spirit. They have made the first ever Purchase Players Theatre Camp a wonderful experience for all of us.
